

Amendment (revised) to Disposition for IE-0010 (Response 34)

Agreed; we will fully define the information necessary to implement each compatibility setting which was not previously completely described. ~~In addition, we will remove each of these settings (and all other application compatibility settings) from their current location in the specification (Part 4, §2.15.3, pages 1,368-1,487), and place them into a new annex for deprecated features.~~ All such settings (and all other application-specific compatibility settings) shall be incorporated in the transitional conformance class.

Proposed amendment: replace the second sentence as shown above.